

IATF 16949-2016 Awareness Training for Automotive

OVERVIEW

The International Automotive Task Force (IATF) is an 'ad hoc' group of automotive manufacturers (members include BMW, DaimlerChrysler, Fiat, Ford, General Motors, PSA Peugeot Citroen, Renault SA, Volkswagon etc) and their respective trade associations formed to achieve harmonization of quality management systems for the automotive industry.

Working with ISO (International Organization for Standardization), the IATF published ISO/TS 16949 in June 2009 and now has been replaced by IATF 16949:2016, published in October 2016.

TARGET MARKET

This course is intended for company personnel who are considering the development and implementation of a Quality Management System that is meeting ISO 9001:2015 and IATF 16949:2016 (or equivalent quality system standards) to achieve third party certification, and is particularly relevant to the IATF 16949:2016 steering group representative.
